Chains

Duran Duran

An hour since the sundown The ghosts are creepin in Are gathering around me Like starlings in the wind

Dark shapes gather round

Voices like my brother's Are whispering to me But I don't know these others Who want to set me free

Come home you're out of time

But the life cannot let go It's a chain cuts across my soul Anchoring in this world

I put my hand into the flame Burning but I feel no pain Don't speak, don't speak my name Hold on to this life of chains

The door is standing open But I'm too tired to be afraid My whole life's in this moment I've been fighting all the way

Just need a little more time

Cuz the life just can't let go It's a chain cuts across my soul Anchoring in this world

I put my hand into the flame Burning but I feel no pain Don't speak, don't speak my name Hold on to this life of chains

Nah nah nah nah

I put my hand into the flame Burning but I feel no pain Don't speak, don't speak my name Hold on to this life of chains

Chains... chains... chains...
