Michael You've Got a Lot to Answer For

Duran Duran

I came over your place today In a roundabout sort of way Nothing holding me Just the company Gentle giving the afternoon

Don't ever try to be any more Michael, you've got a lot to answer for You unlocked some of the doors To my soul

And I don't see you for awhile Thinkin of you will make me smile You never bother me with responsibility Misbehaving in candlelight

Don't ever try to give any more Michael, you've got a lot to answer for You got me wakin up wise to the world

Trust you to get caught up in somebody's war You'll come out of it all in time, I'm sure Just remember what friends were put here for Michael, you've got a lot to answer for

And I know that you're gonna call If you need me When you need me If you need me
