Time will see
We're not searching for a wild excuse
To put emotions back on hold.
Too much has gone down
We know what you're doing.
But do you feel the same way?
You look sharp inside your pointed shoes
I have this picture hanging in my room.
But I refuse to take you down or shake you down.
We could bring you gently round
If that's what you'd choose
For a point of view.
I think you'll find it's true.
These words are like sand, just get blown away
All the things we'd like to say.

We need you
We need you)
We need you
(We need you)
We need you
(We need you)
We need you)
We need you
