We know how they feel
They say that we got time to kill
I'm gonna keep it real my time is not crucial
Got lotta bills handel' business as usual
But life still brings strain
We're livin' in a world insane
Tryna prove we're superior to someone
Welcome to life twuneeanunda

Insurance is too damn high
Because of your age and where you reside
I'm working at AAA but it don't mean shit
They still wanna see 5,000 every six months
There's gotta be a way that's much easier
No coverage that's done but much cheaper

Twenty years young
A few months away from twenty-one
Your friends all up in the club but you cant get in
And if you do you ain't got no extra cash to spend
'Cus you gave it up to the bounce so you can enter
Into the club get a fake id and enter

Thank God my time has come
A few more months I'll be twenty-one
No more fake ids I'll be legally un-sober
Hittin Rivarock singin' twenty-one and ova
