

Two of Us Alone

Dying Passion

Just the two of us alone and the world passing by me and my pain the engine shaking with a roar on the road through a dark forest

Just the two of us alone - it's always been like this all melted in one piece I've given up far so much what's going to be next?

Just the two of us alone and the bend is coming my eyes are getting weary for a little moment on we are getting to the finish

Just the two of us alone when night turns to dawn we felt the crash hey, why all the anger
Just me myself alone escaped and started to run
