Not In Vain

I see the World lost in their doubts (People) trying to forget the pain in their souls They want to dry the tears on their faces But they don't know who is the way

Tell me now, why can't you see? I wonder why you are still blind

One day someone paid the price for us To live a life so far away from hate You may feel His love and peace A love that you can't understand

Died on a cross for you and me Gave us His life for our sins Died on a cross Why can't you see? Gave us His life for our sins
