Number One Hypocrite

This has been built for you and me Maniacal annihilation machine Using fear to keep you in control "Every one else is the terrorist" That's what you've been sold

And do you buy it? Yes you fucking do You buy everything in sight You eat whatever they are feeding you You buy a piece of poisoned happiness And suckle system's boob Your freedom's nothing more than a lie And America is killing you

Seems like we aid in every war And we are friends with whom we abhor Always at the expense of the poor If it were the rich There would be no more war

Rape and conquest feed your kids Gets you "things". Things you equate with freedom If you want an SUV, we'll have to kill some children And you don't fucking care As long as you are not impaired Giving money to the system To enlist the poor and kill them It's the American way. And you're a fucking slave And the simple fact is this: You're the fucking terrorist

And I was trained like you Dumbed down through church and school In the end it's just my luck I'm a product of where my parents fucked

I'm american because my parents fucked! (In America) (I'm not American) Thank you, mom and dad
