Lord you know what makes a lonely man All it takes is to be Racing down where you never be found
Oh don't let me fall that low again
When you're gone that far
Only one thing's going to get you up

She is the woman with the skull tattoo Her skin is black and eyes are blue Takes me to heaven when I think of you She picked me up in a gutter downtown

Lord know I lost my faith in you
So it goes when you are
Racing down where you'll never be found
Your dark angel spread her wing again
When you've gone that far
Only one thing is going to pick you up

She is the woman with the skull tattoo Her skin is black and her eyes are blue Takes me to heaven when I think of you She picked me up in a gutter downtown
