

Time Has Come

Eagleheart

For too much time of my life
I waited for the sunrise Beyond my soul I prayed for touch of light

Betrayed by the hand of fate - I realize That I'm the one to save myself, my pride

Now there's no reason to hide within the dark My spirit is soaring high
I feel I'm alive like I never do before Let's fly forevermore!

...now the time has come
our life has just begun
we will rise from the ashes and fly

the time has come out of the shades we run
we will find what is lost
the time has come

We all must go this long way
Which seems to lead to astray Until we dare to wake up from despair

So here I am to recreate my destiny And I decide the way life's gonna be

Now there's a reason to show what's deep inside
My spirit will never die
Once I was lost in my tears but now I'm found Let's fly the Eagleheart!

the time has come
the time has come

now the time has come

the time has come
