

Sometimes She Forgets

Steve Earle

If you see her out tonight
And she tells you it's just the lights
That bring her here and not her loneliness
That's what she says but sometimes she forgets

If she tells you she don't need a man
She's had all the comfort she can stand
You'd best believe every word she say
But don't give up 'cause sometimes she forgets

Sometimes she forgets
That not too long ago she swore
She wasn't gonna let her heart
Been broken anymore

So now she keeps it locked away
It grows colder every day
And it won't warm to any man's caress
That's what she says but sometimes she forgets

Yeah, sometimes she forgets
That not too long ago she swore
She wasn't gonna let her heart
Been broken anymore

So if you see her out tonight
And she tells you it's just the lights
That bring her here and not her loneliness
That's what she says but sometimes she forgets
Hey now don't give up 'cause sometimes she forgets