

Funny how in just one moment Things can turn upside down wish I could turn back time to when you were still around

And all I got left is memories
Of your face smiling at me Used to say that we should all just handle this differently

Took us all by surprise
no, we never saw this coming always were, always will be our hero
with no warning sign one day, they came and they took you away

Remember everything that you said?
how we can never fully trust them Wish I could say I disagree but I know they're the ones to blame

Destroyed every hope we once had Nothing we can do now that you're gone no way to bring you back

Took us all by surprise
no, we never saw this coming
always were, always will be
one day, they came and
they took you away

Things can be so unfair you were taken away Before your time
Now we're all sitting here, nothing left for us to say Don't want to leave you behind

Took us all by surprise
No, we never saw this coming
Always were, always will be our hero
With no warning sign
One day they came
And they took you away

Took us all by surprise
No, we never saw this coming
With no warning sign
And they took you away...
