

Back In Business

Eartha Kitt

Yesterday it seemed the world was about to end, didn't it?
Looked as though it wouldn't last out the year.
Yesterday disaster waited around the bend.
Well, my friend.
Spring is here.

Back in business, and ain't it grand?
Let the good times roll.
Yesterday things were out of hand.
Now they're under control.

Bye-bye blues, so long adversity.
Happiness, hello! (Hello! Hello!)
Keep the status quo
Permanently so!

Back again like a boomerang,
Same old stand,
Same old gang.
Back in business with a bang!
Let the good times roll!
