

Mark's Song

Eastmountainsouth

May your soul be blessed
May your body rest
On the mountain where you were born
May your spirit soar
Where there's joy ever more
May you find your way in peace
And there's no more harm
In your saviors arms
See you fly away in the sky
Did you hear the call of angels one and all
May you find your way peace
May you know you're loved
May you shine above on the mountain where you were born
May your spirit soar
There's no pain anymore
May you find your way in peace
And there's no more harm
In your saviors arms
See you fly away in the sky
Did you hear the call of angels one and all
May you find your way in peace
May you find your way in peace
May you find your way in peace
