

Someday When I'm Old

Easton Corbin

Someday when I'm old
I'll pull up to the store and park wherever I want to.

I'll buy a box of moonpies and flirt with the cashier yeah, like I was still 22

I'll bitch about $18 for a gallon of gas down at the Texaco
Someday when I'm old

Yeah, someday when I'm old I'll keep chewing gum in my front pocket and cold Dr Pepper in the fridge

I'll let my daughter get mad say I'm ruining their supper when I give that stuff to my grandkids

Now I realize that somethings they just don't matter and how fast it all goes
Someday when I'm old

That clock just starts tickin Oh the day that you're born And no matter how much time you get You always want more

Someday when I'm old,
I'll be the only one who remembers you young, and beautiful Your dark hair falling on that pillow case all the secrets we shared, all the love that we made...

And I'll hold on to those precious moments like pieces of gold...
someday when I'm old.
