

I hit a squirrel it changed my life

eat me while I'm hot!

Shot down by my own risk take?
Shut you out
Can't breathe
Will this be my end?

New beginnings have never felt this way before
Until you find out why

I never thought, and I never thought that this would go on
And time will tell
Will you still care
With the world on top of me

You've got it all
You've got it all
Everything that you could dream
But you, you can't breathe
You can't breathe

And this is the part where you start to let yourself go
Let yourself go of everything

You will not go down with this ship,
I will not let your crew down to hell (hell)
I will not let my eyes wait and you will not Let your life waste/wisk to shame
