

In the idle light of a fading day
There's a past i lost
One i gave away
One i used to know
Caught in the dust of a desert plain
Waiting
For the rains to fall

It's something that i feel, rain falls
Something that i feel, when rain falls
More than a world away
It's always here inside

In all that has overgrown
Almost underground
Could never be all erased
Only lost and found
One i left behind
Caught in the dust of a desert plain
Waiting
For the rains to come

It's something that i feel, rain falls
Something that i feel, when rain falls
More than a world away
It's always here inside