

Lustra

There's something hiding behind your immaculate smile
You have always known, so let it out

Lustra

I fell your anger swell the radical in your style, girl
Take the cross you bear and throw it out

She's coming up, coming up

Breathe it in and let it out

Let it go, be yourself, take a shot

It's what you've always known now

You've always known now

What you waiting for

Lustra

It's gonna take as long, as long as it will take

To strike a match to your silence

Take the pain you bear and burn it out

She's coming up, coming up

Breathe it in and let it out

Let it go, be yourself, take a shot and give it out

Coming up, coming up

Breathe it in and let it out

Let it go, be yourself, take a shot

It's what you've always known now

You've always known now

What you waiting for

Lustra

Don't you know where's no tomorrow

In a sense, there's no way out

Innocence is all you're born with

Inner sense dictates the way you wheel

The way you deal with knowing who you are

Lustra

You know where hell is when you

Fight the maze of denial

Do it

You've gotta take a shot

Give all you've got for your dreams girl

She's coming up, coming up

Breathe it in and let it out

Let it go, be yourself, take a shot and give it out

Coming up, coming up

Breathe it in and let it out

Let it go, be yourself, take a shot

It's what you've always known now

You've always known now
