To Get Me Thru the Good Times

Echobelly

I keep an open invitation To a world of isolation It?s an old right

I found a home in hibernation Lost the self in preservation Built the walls high

I joke about the bad times To get me thru the good times About all those long nights I go wading through

Keep running down a one way Giving all for a brand new day But now I?m all out, nothing to lose Nothing to lose, nothing to save

From a momentary glory To a solitary story It?s a short ride

Through the trials and tribulations For the bane of reputation It?s a long fight but I?m done, done

I joke about the bad times To get me thru the good times About all those long nights I go wading through

Keep running down a one way Giving all for a brand new day But now I?m all out, nothing to lose Nothing to lose, nothing to save No more ties

I joke about the bad times To get me thru the good times About all those long nights I go wading through

Keep running down a one way Giving all for a brand new day But now I?m all out, nothing to lose Nothing to lose, nothing to save No more ties, no more ties
