Tell Her You Love Her

Echosmith

Tell her a story Tell her the honest truth You treat her better Make sure to see it through Don't be just everything thing she wants Be everything she needs When she says she loves you Tell her you love her too Oh oh oh oh oh oh Give her a reason A reason to love all you do She'll tell you secrets You'll tell her secrets too She'll tell you all her hopes and dreams You'll tell them too When she says she loves you Tell her you love her too But don't you run away run away When you get tired Cus this will slip away slip away And start a fire That can never be put out Oh hurry time is running out But don't you run away run away Before you say You love her (oh oh x2) When she says she needs you Tell her you need her too You tell her clearly Speak what your heart wants you to Tell her she's lovely Always tell her the truth When she says she loves you Tell her you love her too But don't you run away run away When you get tired Cus this will slip away slip away And start a fire

That can never be put out Oh hurry time is running out But don't you run away run away Before you say You love her (oh oh oh x2)
