Econoline Crush

I don't know whatever Takes me to the limit Pushes me Then makes me want to stay I won't go forget it Things I said I meant them Funny how Everythings changed You know exactly what Makes this just what you want Come on live a little dangerous Light it up and let live in us Come together Forever (and again) Tomorrow starts today No one knows me better Keeps me on the level Comforts me Makes it go away I could never guess How did I impress Someone just so beautiful like you
