

Heaven's Gate

Edda Müvek

Again, from a sleep you wake me up
The touch so soft like gentle rain that falls to cool my soul
Oh, you kiss my lips and say
You'll never go away you need me just as I need you

I open my eyes, but you're not there I realize
You're already gone, I know
Oh, the darkness of the night
My life has lost the light of love you brought into our home

Oh, I keep you close to me
The memory of you has brought this strong man to his knees
Your fragrance's still here
With everything you left behind
I hope you're happy where you've gone

How can I carry on without her next to me?
How can you take away the one you made for me?
Take me now to Heaven's gate
Wait my love for me, I'll follow you, I'll be with you

Time is the healer
Anger and pain to test my will could push me to the edge
Please, touch me again
Even if you're only in my dreams I need you there

Your fragrance's still here
With everything you left behind
I hope you're happy where I know

How can I carry on without her next to me?
How can you take away the one you made for me?
Take me now to Heaven's gate
Wait my love for me, I'll follow you, I'll be with you

Should I believe another love could ease the pain in me?
Or could it be, to take my life would bring us once again
Close like we used to be or would I never see you and burn eternally

(Még mindig szeretlek én is)

How can I carry on without her next to me?
How can you take away the one you made for me?
Take me now to Heaven's gate
Wait my love for me, I'll follow you, I'll be with you

How can I carry on without her next to me?
How can you take away the one you made for me?
Take me now to Heaven's gate
Wait my love for me, I'll follow you, I'll be with you
