

Tonight My Heart Will Be Crying

Eddie Fisher

Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)
(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)

Tonight my heart will be crying
Tonight my heart will be sad
Tonight the wind will be sighing
For the love that I had

The moon is there in the sky above
But not the way it was before
My woman's eyes filled with shining love
Cannot see me anymore

(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)
(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)

My woman's heart is like a diamond stone
So very beautiful but cold
My woman's heart is like a diamond stone
So very beautiful but cold

Tonight my heart will be crying
There is no happiness for me
Tonight my dream will be dying
Like a ripple on the sea

The perfect future I dared to plan
And just when everything seemed right
My woman left me for another man
And my heart will cry tonight

(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)
(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)

(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)
(Love is a bird that spreads it's wings and flies away)
