

You Carry Me

Eden's Bridge

When my heart burns low
And my dark eyes teem
When my hopes are passing
And swept downstream
When the empty days
Melt to endless nights
When I stumble and falter
You carry me

May your grace and your love
Always be here with me
May your strength bear my weight
Over land and sea
May I know for all time
That you walk by my side
When I stumble and falter
You carry me

When I lose my direction
And cannot find the way
When the night overcomes me
And shadows haunt my day
May I know when I call
You are only a moment away

When the seasons are high
And the breeze takes me on
When my troubles are few
And the challenges none
When my dry eyes are clear
May I always know
When I stumble and falter
You carry me