

Fly on a Rainbow Dream

Edenbridge

fly, forever fly along let your wings just breathe the air tonight to foreign skies fly on a rainbow dream she's straying from reality her imagination leaves her mind like a falcon she is passing her old home she's calling the spirits up there she's freeing herself from clandestine eyes awaiting brightened skies

I will bring this dream to you believe I will lead you everywhere fly, fly on a rainbow dream just glide into the gleaming sky eternally away from staring eyes

fly, forever fly along
she enters horizons unseen away from the whispers of the night in a reverie she's heading on and on she's passing elysian fields ascending on wings of a glorious ride she feels the falcon's pride is it stardust of time in these pictures of infinity? all the memories appearing one by one are reflections in me fly, fly, flyspread your wings and touch the sky(high), high, high one more time I face the falcon eye to eye before the rainbow's fading then gold is at the end right on your dream through time forevermore, fly on a rainbow dream
