

Perennial Dreams

Edenbridge

how could i ever see this blueprint of reality spoiling for a fight i left no stone unturned for ever and one day the gale force in my heart will stay and i don't care a straw about the lessons learned free i can hear this haunting melody ever since the spirits rose in me

the shadows of darkness
or the light of the world
leaving those energetic streams
a soldier of fortune
or a fancier at all
keeping on for perennial dreams will this tide ever turn before my restless heart will burn the elfstruck time elapses to the eventide it is a game of skill and it is playing with your will the floatlight marks the harbour there it is my guide

the spangled heaven's gleam a neverending stream will arise in my perennial dream
