

Shadows Of My Memory

Edenbridge

I cry in anger
i cry in pain
i lose my bearings can't break the chain once i heard that wonders never cease let me get my second wind please do i have to burn my boats behind ?

Do i have to break the ice in mind ?

just let me see the daylight now and find the ways and means to carry on somehow

no smoke without fire
no love without pain
only the memories remain
it tears at my heartstrings
a past reverie
the shadows of my memory

i eat my heart out day out, day in go rack to ruin cause i'm all in did i burn the candles at both ends ?

Cannot tell when all got out of hand all i feel is trapped in daily round how can i get out here safe and sound

now, i see daylight now in this evil hour i'm weathering the storm when my ship comes home for a fleeting moment in a dream i am changing horses in midstream heaven only knows where the journey...goes
