

Chamber Six

Edge of Dawn

What if the soul corrupts the heart
And if the child corrupts the man
A graceful sort rewards a lie
Embrace a chance to end a life

What if the soul corrupts the heart
And if the child corrupts the man
A graceful sort rewards a lie

Face the chance that you might die

What if the soul corrupts the heart
And if the child corrupts the man
Five lines of lies pervade your life
Because there's always the chance that you will die