

The Spirit Will Remain

Edguy

A Scent of rain
A healing breeze
Is blown into my face
To feel desire

And raise my head
To gaze at the sky
And watch the setting sun
Breaking through

The darkened clouds
And I feel that I
Am still alive and breathe
For all the world to see

You can bind my blood
But the spirit will remain
For all the world to see
No matter what you claim

The spirit will remain
They want to see me down
On my wounded knees
want to see me cry

But my eyes
Have run out of tears
When there's nothing left to pay
Just a little light of day

I got something
You can't take away
Fly away
Fly away

Deep inside
Shelter for my spirit and my pride
For all the world to see
You can bind my blood

But the spirit will be free
Forevermore...
