This time my blood's flowing faster Things have gone too far You really got me busted I'm sick and tired To hell with cheap illusions And you're dragging my patience back and forth I know, everyone strolls They can go wrong But now I fell it somehow I can't let it go that easy, I'm gonna... One day you will find me gone Still I don't wanna leave... Our love, it seemed everlasting When we were kissing Every night in your car And every promise we were making was forever God I never thought I could be so naive I know, anger may grow I'm not that strong So now I feel it somehow I can't let it go that easy, I'm gonna... One day you will find me gone Still I don't wanna leave... So stop for a while Consider this! I'm a live human being so! Hurt me not! If you know at all what hurting means What is love? This time I'll destroy my life I've made my mind...

Still I don't wanna leave...
