

Brightly Shines

Eiffel 65

You use to hide behind a wall

The part of you nobody knows
No one ever saw it
And your flower deep down in the see
Full of colours deep indeed
No one ever saw it before
No one ever saw it before
Your shines is leaving you alone
Just put you trust in who you are, in who you are
You use to hide behind a wall
The part of you nobody knows
No one ever saw it
And your flower deep down in the see
Full of colours deep indeed
No one ever saw it before
And your flower deep down in the see
Full of colours deep indeed
No one ever saw it before

Why can't you see it
There is a light that brightly shines inside your head
There is a light that brightly shines that brightly shines
Inside yourself
Why can't you see it
There is a light that brightly shines inside your head

There is a light that brightly shines that brightly shines
Inside yourself
You use to hide behind a wall
The part of you nobody knows
No one ever saw it
And your flower deep down in the see
