

Morning Time

Eiffel 65

Morning time,

now...

time....

Morning time,

I sit and watch the sun arise,
and everything seems so different now,
than it was just before.

Dawning sun,

as you go down my soul will run,
I feel it all slip away.

Slip out of my hands

I realize as I see

All the people holding tight,
as I leave the world tonight, yeah eh
meeting the light.

I realize as I see

All the people holding tight,
as I leave the world tonight, yeah eh
meeting the light.

Morning time,

I sit here looking all around,
And everything seems so colourful,
And life's a miracle.

Dawning sun,

I here in the wind your sweet hum,
I feel it all slip away,

Slip out of my hands,

I realize as I see...

Morning time

Oh it's Morning time

Dawning sun

You will run away.

I feel it all slip away,

Slip out of my hands.

I realize as I see...
