You Can't Take My Song Away

Eilen Jewell

My strings how they'll jangle My voice how it will rise In a feathery tangle And meet the truth above this world, among the skies

More powerful than riches More precious than your gold Holier than your churches Bewildering as desert cold

You can lock me in jail Cheat me of all I own Tie me to the rails Leave me forsaken and alone

But you can't take my song away...