

Over The Mountains

Eisley

With light bulbs in our pockets
we light the darkened forest.

On the mossy turf we'll dance till our feet shatter, our toes will splinter.

Tripping through the misty streams of light, so beautiful, I stare in awe.