

One Last Time

Elane

I know it's over now
And I have cried too many times
I must get over this
Bury my hope one last time

But then the wind reminds me of you
And the rain reminds me, too
When it snows I think of you
And the spring reminds me of you
And every day I think of you
Will you ever love me, too
Will you

Another day
And life goes on
I haven't seen you for about two years
And soon there's not much left to feel
You coldly closed that door too many times

Sometimes it's like I see you here
It's just my mind playing tricks on me
'cause I will never see you again
I will move on
Won't look back

But then the wind reminds me of you
And the rain reminds me, too
When it snows I think of you
And the spring reminds me of you
And every day I think of you
Will you ever love me, too
Will you
