Paper cup of the boat Heaving chest of the sea Carry both of us Carry her, carry me

From the place we were born To the land of the free Carry both of us Carry her, carry me

The ocean
That bears us from our home
Could save us
Or take us for its own
The danger
That life should lead us here
My angel
Could I have steered us clear?

Gone, the light from her eyes With the lives that we made Just the two of us
In the night on the waves

Moving silent her lips
By the moon's only light
Sowing silver prayers
In the blanket of night

The ocean
That bears us from our home
Could save us
Or take us for its own
The danger
That life should lead us here
My angel
Could I have steered us clear?

Paper cup of the boat Heaving chest of the sea Carry both of us Or, swallow her, swallow me
