

Two Versions of Tomorrow

Eleanor Friedberger

I've never seen nothing like this on my own
Rain and rain on such sunny days
I'll catch a fox just to walk me home
Let me know I'm really not alone

I could always stay for more
I could always stay for more
I would always stay for more
I would always stay for more

I've got this starling above my head
Above our bed, making her own bed
For winter you can bang and bang
But she won't fly away
No, just scream, scream

I would always stay for more
I would always stay for more
I could always stay for more
I could always stay for more

I won't write you back today cause I got nothing to say
Replace one piano player for another
And listen to my old songs
Two versions of tomorrow

Now what you want is what you hated
If things don't work out in the end
You'll have an open invitation
I could always be your friend

I could always stay for more
I could always stay for more
I would always stay for more
I would always stay for more
