

Not Quite Love

Eleanor McEvoy

It isn't quite love
It isn't quite romance
But whatever it is
It's worth a chance
And if we close our eyes
We can always pretend
If it's not love
That's not the end

It isn't quite love
I cannot deny
But still here it is
It's worth a try
And if I expected more
Life doesn't work that way
So if it's not love
That's quite okay

How often have we cried for love that died?
Our tumbled pride on the floor
So let's take care of our affair
And let's not dare ask for more

It isn't quite love
It isn't quite romance
Still, here it is
It's got to be worth a chance
Let's close our eyes
Let's pretend
It's not quite love
You're quite a friend

It's not quite love
But it's worth a chance
