One More Tomorrow

Electric Light Orchestra

I'm lying here, I know the night must fall The edge of darkness is so near So hold back the night, hold back the night It's the darkness that I fear

And in my heart there's not a shadow of a doubt The final truth waits there fore me Nowhere to hide, nowhere to hide From the memories

Give me one more tomorrow
All these todays alone
Mean nothing anymore
Give me one more tomorrow
Another chance to find
What I've been searching for

Inner voices in the quiet of the night Angry silence calls to me There's no time for tears, no time for tears Find a way to break free

Give me one more tomorrow
All these todays alone
Mean nothing anymore
Give me one more tomorrow
Another chance to find
What I've been searching for

I'm praying for a little piece of heaven tonight
I'm searching for some help from a friend
And all I need is a miracle
To help me through this night that never ends, it never ends

Give me one more tomorrow
All these todays alone
Mean nothing anymore
Give me one more tomorrow
Another chance to find
What I've been searching for

Give me one more tomorrow
All these todays alone
Mean nothing anymore
Give me one more tomorrow
Another chance to find
What I've been searching for
