

On The Runway

Electrocute

Tell me it's your turn I always say things I look above you and You play it cool

I've got this lousy ticket To runaway Stuck in the middle of tw o

For a moment You left me alone But you're still cryin I'm not c rying

In a minute I'll get back in it My heart was borrowed I have no
sorrow

You sit beside me unspoken distance makes me indifferent you're such a fool

Sometimes I want to jump off This aeroplane And fly right past
Your window pane

you make me want to jump off an aero plane and never see you ag ain

For a moment You left me alone But you're still cryin I'm not c
rying

In a minute I'll get back in it My heart was borrowed I have no
sorrow

A split second It took to wreck it You keep playing I'm not sta ying

The last hour You lost your power The clock was ticking When yo u were missing

You sit beside me unspoken distance makes me indifferent you're
such a fool

Sometimes I want to jump off This aeroplane And fly right past
Your window pane

rying

In a minute I'll get back in it My heart was borrowed I have no
sorrow

A split second It took to wreck it You keep playing I'm not sta

ying

The last hour You lost your power The clock was ticking When you
