

Pantomime

Elegant Machinery

I have no reason why why I should listen to all those accusations thrown at me There's really no excuse for what you've done to me duplicity in your eyes reveals the truth
Every day just feels the same breeding disease an aching shame
It doesn't matter how I try
I don't know why
I really do deplore my simple minded words still I don't know why you act this way You often criticized but never realized
nothing about this matter was my fault
Every day just feels the same
it doesn't matter how I try
I don't know why
Trying so hard to watch my own mistakes a pantomime in a silent world am I watching for my own sake Trying so hard to watch my own mistake
Every day just feels the same
It doesn't matter how I try
I don't know why
