

End Of Time

eleventyseven

Lost inside all the pain your tears fall like the rain but you're not alone Hearts all broken apart make us who we are as they guide us home
And i'll stay with you through it all

I will never let this harm you I can be what you hold to Let me be the one to love you till the end of time Know that when the darkness shakes you I will never this this break you let me be the wings that take you to the end of time

Pain, too deep to forget, uncovered again leaves you exposed Hopes, all lost to the wind, come back in the end from where they go
And i'll stay with you through it all
