

The Sun Is Forever

Elf Power

slipping across the morning. the shadows take the doubt away from brother midnight. just a few more hours. and his arms are ever reaching and the days are almost gone and the sun is forever. death is only once. when the leaves are falling i hear your brother calling. soon he will be bringing the song that you are singing. saying,
"la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la" etc.

a million eyes are waiting, searching through the sky with brother midnight always inching by. and his arms are ever reaching and the days are almost gone and the sun lives forever. death is only once. when the leaves are falling i hear your brother calling. soon he will be bringing the song that you are singing. saying, "la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la la" etc.
