

Your Last Broken Heart

Eli Young Band

Baby you've had your share of a love that went nowhere
It starts out honest then ends in broken promises
I know what you've been through but girl I promise you
I'm not gonna do what you think I'm gonna do, no

Your last broken heart was your last broken heart, baby
Say goodbye to goodbye, I ain't ever gonna change my mind
This is the part where our forever starts
So your last broken heart was your last broken heart
Mmm, your last broken heart

Just forget every tear, drop that brought you here
Just let down your wall, I'll be your wrecking ball
My love will never quit, so just get used to it
Seal it with a kiss so you won't forget

Your last broken heart was your last broken heart, baby
Say goodbye to goodbye, I ain't ever gonna change my mind
This is the part where our forever starts
So your last broken heart was your last broken heart

Hey trust me when I say, I love you every single day
That won't ever change and that won't go away

Your last broken heart was your last broken heart, baby
Say goodbye to goodbye, I ain't ever gonna change my mind
This is the part where our forever starts
So your last broken heart was your last broken heart

Your last broken heart
Your last broken heart
Yeah
