

Say Anything You Want

Eliot Sumner

I am a part volatile
Can be as cold as a winter beast but
Just like a child a juvenile
My ego smile, I look the other way

And you can say anything you want to me
Tell me anyway you choose
Wrap it up in sympathy
As long as it's not the truth
No I couldn't take that from you
How could I take that?
So say anything you want to me
Anything but the truth

How can you try to reconcile?
There's nothing deeper than the surface
Not verified, but versatile
How much I take is an immeasurable amount

You can say oh anything you want to me
Tell me anyway you choose
Wrap it up in sympathy
As long as it's not the truth
No I couldn't take that from you
How could I take that?
So say anything you want to me
Anything but the truth

And I, I look at the past and I don't wanna go back there
So maybe, maybe it's okay that I am afraid
Some things you don't have to face

Say anything you want
Oh you can say anything you want
Say anything you want
Oh you can say anything you want

You can say oh anything you want to me
Tell me anyway you choose
Wrap it up in sympathy
As long as it's not the truth
No I couldn't take that from you
How could I take that?
So say anything you want to me
