

New Kiss

Elisa

I don't wanna hear another plastic love song and I don't need no more triviality 'cause I know there is more that love could be but you know that's not to say that I know just what I want out of life it doesn't mean that I feel hopeful every day I'm alive but when you smiled at me I felt many things like lust and fear and dreams and though it could hurt I've gotta try it anyway when the door is flung wide open you don't stay inside your room all day you go where there's a chance of losing the awful empty lie that it's better not to need anyone than to take the crazy uncertain ride

and it's a new kiss and I'm flying out there a great kiss and I'm crying in the street it's a killer kiss under a friendly rain hear me now sell me joy and pain but at the best price you can

I don't know much more than your first name but I might stick around till I know everything because who we could be remains to be seen is it the joke now or the dream?

I like the new beginning the slow show and tell sometimes I think the expectation is sweeter than the love itself it's alright but I take my time I'm gonna take your mystery you know it's simple don't you try to ignore take your freedom when y ou're given the key

like a new kiss and I'm flying out there
a great kiss and I'm crying in the street
it's a killer kiss under a friendly rain
hear me now sell me joy and pain
but at the best price you can

like a new kiss and I'm flying out there
a great kiss and I'm crying in the street
it's a killer kiss under a friendly rain
hear me now sell me joy and pain

it's a new kiss and I'm flying out there a great kiss and I'm crying in the street
it's a killer kiss under a friendly rain
hear me now sell me joy and pain...