There are shadow zones all around...

we danced thick as trees still prisoners of wood and in between the smoke and vines on the dance floor there he stood I could see in your eyes you're the one to burn it all down and I want to be there, yes I want to be there so I start the hunt you scent's in my mouth and my thoughts are in the mud there's quicksand all around me but your rhythm's filled my blood I can see by your moves you're the one to burn it all down and I want to be there, yes I want to be there

here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you

there's a jungle in motion it looks like a dancer there's a jungle in motion it looks like a dancer there's a jungle in motion it looks like a dancer there's a jungle in motion it looks like a dancer animals encircle trading fur for skin and I've been told you're too much for me but this camouflage is wearing thin I can tell by you touch you're the one to burn it all down and I wanna be there, yes I wanna be there

here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you

shadows are blindfolds and the pulse is so extreme your skin's like heaven down on me and there is nothing in between I can feel from your hips you're the one to burn it all down and I want to be there, I wanna be there

here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you here I feel your breath but I can't see you oh I guess you're here but I can't touch you
