

Simplicity

Elisa

If I could fly I'd come to see you wherever you are
I would lie down beside you while you sleep

And with simplicity
I'd spend a little time just a little time with you
With simplicity
I'd listen to your breath listen to your heart beat
I would be so near we could push away the fear
So I'd come to see all of your tears
I'd come to see all of your smiles... with butterflies eyes

And you would know who I am
And you would know who I am
You would know who I am
And I would know who you are