Break free from your disparities Take the reins of your mind. Realize the ability to think for yourself One of these days, you'll follow every one Off the edge, off the edge of the cliff I'll be standing in the back, watching you fall to your feet Move forward It's obvious you lack the ability to form original thoughts In your mind, in your soul, Not even propaganda, you're just unable to take control Make use of the mind, and break away Only god knows why Stop listening Stop following Let go, take control and live your life I am awaken I am awaken, you are a liar Remember the lessons I taught you, hold them tight Never let them go Hear my cry, i am alone I am alone in this world This is our reason Hear my cry

Let go of me

Elitist
