

I'm Beginning To Forget

Elizabeth Cook

I'm beginning to forget you a little more each day
Oh I know I'll forget you, if you'll just stay away
I'm beginning to get over you, forget old memories
And I know I'll get over you, if you'll just set me free
Don't walk by my window, don't call on the phone
Don't write me a letter, just leave me alone
For each time I see you, old heartaches begin
And I know I'll get over you, if I don't see you again
