

Do You Want To

Elle Varner

Well you can't fool me
I know all about it
We been down this road
And back more times than I can count it
It's a far far cry
From sun kissed Sunday mornings
When you wake up and you just can't release the hand you're holding

And you say, this car isn't drivin like it used to
Why do you stay, if you're really leaving
What's in your way, baby

Baby, do you really wanna walk away now
Do you want to
These doors are openin wide
If you want to
I can't be holding you back
If you want to
Do you want to

Have you packed your bag, or is this smoke you're blowin
I once was scared of losing you, now I know where you're going
It's the same routine, I know all about it
You show your gun and yet you never pull the trigger on it

And you say, this car isn't drivin like it used to
Why do you stay, if you're really leaving
What's in your way, baby

Baby, do you really wanna walk away now
Do you want to
These doors are openin wide
If you want to
I can't be holding you back
If you want to
Do you want to

I'll stand by you, humble
Tried and true
Never the less prepared to say goodbye
Baby I'm not scared
I want you to know
I love you more than my impatience tends to steal the show
Honey I'm just waiting
I could be wrong but I'm predicting that you're staying

Baby, do you really want to walk away now
Do you want to
These doors are openin wide
If you want to
I can't be holding you back
If you want to
Baby, baby, do you really want to walk away now
Do you really wanna walk away now
I can't be holdin you back
I can't be holdin you back
These doors are opening wide

These doors are opening wide
If you really wanna walk away